

Story 2

The costs associated with hiring employees and independent contractors for your business. This is the most common expense category for payroll, and will include all the payments made to employees for their work, including regular wages, overtime bonuses and commissions.

