

Story 3

Employer contribution is the money the head or owner of a business pays into the company insurance plan. The employer contribution usually matches the amount the employee pays for the benefits.

